Studio Daedalus is pleased to offer WhizBang® the computer font for comic book lettering!

WhizBang provides the look of professional quality hand lettering at the touch of a computer keyboard. It might not make the careful craftsmanship of professional letterers obsolete, but WhizBang provides a great simulation of comics lettering that can meet the needs of amateur, semi-professional and commercial comics publishers alike. Even professional letterers will find it useful for quickly breaking a story down into a lettered form that takes more than a second look to distinguish it from the "real thing." Comics enthusiasts can enjoy the look of the comics for their informal documents, or for trying out their own gag strips or comics stories. WhizBang even includes a collection of various types of word balloons (speaking, thinking, exclamation, and more) in encapsulated Postscript (EPS) format to help create quick panel layouts!

There are a lot of hand lettering fonts on the market, but WhizBang is designed to specifically emulate the look of comics. Along with a standard roman weight, WhizBang comes with bold, italic, and bold-italic, the latter being most common for comics-style word stresses. The fonts have built in kerning (for those applications that support it), so the letterfit is snug and seamless! WhizBang ships with both Type 1 and TrueType formats for Microsoft Windows and MacOS/Mac OS X and includes the full ASCII and international character set with extras.

WhizBang can be purchased and downloaded immediately on the web at www.whizbangfont.com through our secure ordering system. Orders are also accepted by regular mail. Please specify Mac or PC and send check or money order for $35.00* (U.S.) to the address below to recieve a CD-ROM.
